ABOUT ANGEL

Angel, Inc. a subsidiary of MicroStrategy Inc. (NASDAQ: MSTR), is a leading provider of on-demand IVR (Interactive Voice Response) and call center solutions. Founded in 1999, Angel has provided over 10,000 telephony solutions to more than 1,600 customers, including Pfizer, Borland Software and Reebok.

We're headquartered just outside of Washington, DC – one of the most diverse locations to live in the U.S., with a multitude of cultural and entertainment opportunities.

Today, we are translating complex phone technology into simple yet powerful solutions that anyone can use and bringing Voice 2.0 to the business world.

What will you help us do tomorrow?

WHY SHOULD YOU CONSIDER ANGEL

Join a rapidly growing company. Our staff has grown 100% in the past year, and our revenue has been growing annually at more than 100%. Grow within your department, get exposure to other departments or start your own department!

Work with fascinating technology. As a Software or Business Associate, you will work with VoIP, open source and telco grade infrastructure technologies.

Make your ideas count. As a small company, you won't have to sift through layers and layers of management to make your opinion heard – we're always open to new ideas.

We reward performance. If you produce results, you will be rewarded. Many people who started as Angel Associates are now in positions of leadership.
