LEADBYFONE BY ANGEL.COM

LeadByFone by Angel.com is a fully hosted, speech-enabled IVR solution that enables salesforce.com users to automatically capture the names and addresses of callers and place them into a salesforce.com account for easy retrieval and analysis.

By integrating LeadByFone with a salesforce.com account, salesforce.com users can gather data and create reports in real time, without the time and money expenses of traditional contact information retrieval methods. To increase data accuracy, LeadByFone features an advanced "say-and-spell" functionality and an address verification service.

LeadByFone is built with Angel.com's Site Builder toolkit, which enables users to build and manage LeadByFone solutions via the web directly from a salesforce.com account. Example solutions include scheduling service delivery, placing phone orders, and changing customer addresses.

LEADBYFONE FEATURES

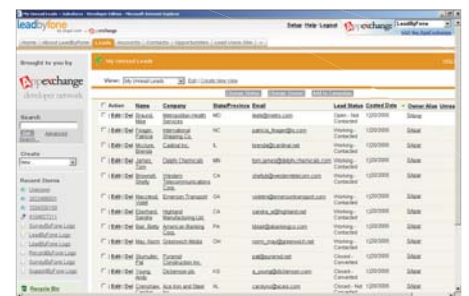

Easy customization: Make changes to the name and address capture application right from a salesforce.com account.

BENEFITS OF LEADBYFONE

Cost effective: LeadByFone captures name and address information at a fraction of the cost of live agents.

Accurate and actionable data: Automated capture of name and address information dramatically increases the accuracy of the data collected.

Better customer service: Automatic name and address capture means that customers will no longer experience busy signals or have to wait in long queues for agents.

Real-time logging: Shows real-time logs of all lead information captured from callers.
